- Other: _____

Describe your project:

Explain how your project fits the selected theme area(s) (if necessary, attach additional pages):

All Fund projects must have an active learning component. Your active learning component must be more than just handing out flyers on a topic or having a table with resource materials available to attendees. It could be a formal workshop like "Raising the Bar on Women's Health & Safety." Active learning components could include activities that: increase participants' knowledge of your Local, workers' rights, and social justice; and/or promote general interest learning, for example members learning French with their USW siblings and family members. Are you unsure if your proposed project has an educational requirement? Call or email us for help!

Please check off the type(s) of educational component(s) that you will lead as part of your project:

- Trivia or bingo game – participants recall facts on a chosen topic and/or learn new ones
- Film screening/talk followed by a discussion – participants watch and hear information on a chosen topic and engage in dialogue about it afterwards
- Course/workshop – participants are guided through content on a particular topic
- Group activity – participants take part in an activity together that encourages conversation, learning, and reflection
- Interactive meeting – participants take part in meeting that requires their active participation (i.e. listening and responding)
- Kids' programming
- Other – please describe

Who is facilitating the educational component(s) of your project? If members are facilitating, please share their names and roles in the union.

What is the duration of the education component(s)?

Please briefly describe the educational component of your project:

Provide an outlined budget for the project (if necessary, attach additional pages). Visit <https://usw.ca/plan-your-project/#helpful-tips> on our website for a sample budget template:

How will you let members and the community know about your event and how will you promote the United Steelworkers? Note that successful applicants will receive digital FCEF logos to include in their promotional materials:

What is the intended outcome and how will you know this project was a success?
